A Letter from the City Manager

Today, I reflect on the achievements of the past year and share my hopes for what Enid has to look forward to in the future.

Because of our pioneering spirit, we continue to see growth across all sectors: in jobs, retail, education, and population.

With the development and growth of new areas and the continued beautification and maintenance of the city, more people are coming to Enid.

The economy in Enid has experienced a challenging year; however, we expect it to grow slowly but surely. With 1.4 billion dollars pouring into new projects all over Enid, we expect more job growth and a welcome drop in unemployment rates.

Our location as the regional economic center for Northwest Oklahoma gives Enid an extra edge and allows us to have a large customer base, serving a potential 200,000 customers. The more customers we attract to Enid, the more we are able to grow our infrastructure, and with this infrastructure growth, we are able to make significant improvements to our community.

Thanks to our city's growth, we are able to not only maintain, but also improve the fire department. They are better enabled to respond quicker and reduce total property damage when fires occur.

The police department is no exception to the improvement of the city. They are constantly working to update their technology and response systems so they can respond faster to crimes. They are working hard to ensure you and your family have a safe environment to live, work, and play in.

The public works department strives to make all of our lives more comfortable, convenient, and safer each day as they maintain the everyday amenities we value and utilize, such as potable water, waste water, and transit.

All of our city departments are dedicated to serving the residents of Enid. I am confident their relentless commitment to excellence will serve us with new successes as we move forward into a new year.

A heartfelt thanks to the employees of the City of Enid, who work behind the scenes, enabling our city to run as efficiently and smoothly as possible. Our employees make the City of Enid what it is today, and put us in good stead to prosper well into the future.

As Enid continues to grow, we must remember to stay true to our character and strong work ethic.

We must remember that Enid cannot grow and improve without hard work: Your hard work! Enid continues its legacy of strength and innovation. You are forging the future of Enid. Without your efforts, we cannot grow; we cannot create beauty; and we cannot improve. Let's continue to make this a year of action. Let's find ways we can make progress together.

Our residents make Enid what it is today, and have a major role to play in the future of our town! On behalf of the City of Enid, thank you for your continued support for, and belief in, the city I'm proud to call home.

– Jerald Gilbert, City Manager

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

The CDSA Youth Build Program worked with our Parks Department to help repair foot traffic bridges around our parks.

Boy Scouts of America worked with our Parks Department to refurbish the bleachers at Kellet Park.

The Boy Scouts of America promotes patriotism among our youth by teaching them respect and reverence. The American flag is a symbol of hope, and many veterans have served to keep that spirit of hope alive. As flags are faded and torn, thanks and honor must be given as these flags are lowered for the final time. Simply discarding the flag in with household garbage is certainly not appropriate. Ceremonies differ, but usually a story is told about the flag as the stripes and blue field are cut out. The stripes and field are then put into the fire, and then the cooled ashes are buried. Approximately 600 flags have been donated to the Boy Scouts.
